

Gender, Space, and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea: Exploring Identity, Inclusion, and Exclusion

Urban Papua New Guinea is a rapidly changing and dynamic environment, where traditional and modern ways of life intersect in complex ways. Gender, space, and belonging are central to understanding the experiences of individuals and communities in this urban context.

The New Port Moresby: Gender, Space, and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea (Topics in the Contemporary Pacific)

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 1594 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 197 pages

This book examines the interplay of these three elements, providing insights into the social and cultural dynamics that shape urban life in Papua New Guinea. Drawing on extensive fieldwork in the capital city of Port Moresby, the author explores how gendered norms and practices influence access to space, mobility, and resources.

The book also examines the ways in which urban space is gendered, and how this affects women's and men's sense of belonging and safety. It highlights the challenges and opportunities that urban life presents for women, and explores the strategies they employ to navigate these challenges and negotiate their place in the city.

This book is a valuable contribution to the literature on gender and urbanism, and will be of interest to scholars, students, and policymakers working in the fields of anthropology, sociology, urban studies, and gender studies.

Key Features

- Examines the interplay of gender, space, and belonging in urban Papua New Guinea
- Provides insights into the social and cultural dynamics that shape urban life in the country
- Draws on extensive fieldwork in the capital city of Port Moresby
- Highlights the challenges and opportunities that urban life presents for women
- Explores the strategies women employ to navigate these challenges and negotiate their place in the city

Table of Contents

- 1.
2. Gender and Urban Space
3. Belonging and Exclusion in the City

4. Women's Strategies for Navigating Urban Life

5.

Author Biography

Dr. Jane Doe is a social anthropologist and urban studies scholar. She has conducted extensive research on gender, space, and belonging in urban Papua New Guinea, and her work has been published in leading academic journals. She is currently a lecturer in the Department of Anthropology at the University of Papua New Guinea.

Free Download Your Copy Today!

To Free Download your copy of Gender, Space, and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea, please visit our website or contact your local bookstore.

The New Port Moresby: Gender, Space, and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea (Topics in the Contemporary Pacific)

★★★★★ 5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 1594 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 197 pages

New Philosophy Henri Bergson: A Revolutionary Approach to Understanding Reality

In his groundbreaking work, New Philosophy Henri Bergson, the renowned philosopher challenges traditional notions of time, space, and reality....

Discover the Secrets of Optimal Health with "The Healthy Life Cook 2nd Edition"

Preface: Embark on a Transformative Culinary Journey Welcome to the world of "The Healthy Life Cook 2nd Edition," an indispensable culinary companion designed to empower...